Educators: Reawakening the Heart of the nation through our Schools

Presented by Vincent Bove

As a response to growing concerns depicting a crisis of character and culture of violence, educators are in a unique position to reawaken the heart of the nation. The ideal setting for this connection is our schools – and educators are being called into action for the survival of our communities.

In this presentation, educators will clearly see the vortex of concerns in our society and be inspired to be catalysts of change. The youth of our cities, suburbs and rural communities are effected by societal issues but educators can lift them to heights of greatness, achievement and service.

Attendees will leave this presentation with a clear vision of the pulse of the nation and be empowered to not only inform and instruct those entrusted to their care but inspire them.

Body Language

Presentation by Glenn Johnson

Do You See What I'm Saying? Kinesics a.k.a. Body Language

60 to 90 percent of all communication is done through body language. This workshop will introduce participants to the basics of kinesics also known as body language. It provide them with some base line behaviors which will give them a better understanding of what people are saying to them with their behavior. Is someone accepting your opinion? Do they dislike what you're doing? Are they being honest with you? The answer to these questions can be found by understanding what people are really saying and how they feel by observing their body language, not just what they want you to think.

The Changing Landscape of Our Economy and Its Impact on the Collective Bargaining Process

Presented by Lorraine Tesauro

Lorraine Tesauro, who has been a PERC mediator for 25 years, will discuss how the economic issues we are experiencing have influenced our negotiations. She will explain further how, by law, the bargaining process works.
